cuddlesandcloudshexagon.PDF | ©2022 THE CROCHET CROWD

Inspiration, Materials and Sizing

Using just 2 balls of Bernat Blanket O'Go I finished Colour A once I knew I couldn't get around the entire blanket and then started Colour B. If you are just using the same colour or don't care when the colour changes, just continue to crochet until you reach the size.

Bernat Blanket, 300g / 10.5 oz, 201 meters / 220 yards

A - Little Blush - 1 Ball
B - Vintage White - 1 Ball

Hook 8 mm / L/11

Size: 35" across flat sides.

Continue to grow out your hexagon until you are happy with the size. Below is how the sample was done.

Continue growing out your hexagon until you finish the first ball. I finished the colour when I knew I couldn't get around a full round before switching. If you are using a solid colour or don't care when the colour changes, you can use the first ball completely up.

Rnds 1 to 11 are Colour A. Rnds 12 to 16 are Colour B in the sample shown.

You can go as big as you prefer as the blanket will sit flat.
